LOCATION

The Southwestern State Normal School is located at California, a town beautifully situated on the left bank of the Monongahela River, in Washington County, Pa., in the heart of the Pittsburgh District, only fifty miles from the Smoky City. The town combines the advantages of comparative quiet and cleanness with those of close proximity and easy access to the many busy cities and towns of this populous region.

The Normal School is situated only a few blocks from the P. R. R. Station and a good paved road leads to the ferry from the station known as East California, on the P. & L. E. railroad. Excellent train service is maintained between Pittsburgh and California on both sides of the river. Many trains leave the Union Station, Pittsburgh, daily for California and new trains running between Fairmont and Pittsburgh will afford transportation facilities to a new section of Greene and Fayette Counties. The schedules suit day students who may wish to come from the vicinity of Rices Landing and other points along the river. Uniontown, Connellsville, and Somerset County communities are easily accessible. A trolley line from Pittsburgh now runs to Roscoe, within three miles of California on the P. R. R., by which connections can be made for Washington, Canonsburg, Finleyville, Bentleyville and other towns of that section.

The good roads movement has made it possible to reach California by automobile from many sections of Washington and Fayette Counties. There are at least two good roads from California to the National Pike, one by way of Malden, the other by Coal Center, Daisytown and Centerville. Many students avail themselves of this opportunity, the year round, to go back and forth across country.

HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE STATEMENT

The Southwestern State Normal School is the outgrowth of an Academy first opened in 1852. It is located at California, Washington County, Pennsylvania, on a site well chosen for the great educational work which the school was destined to carry on. The town, which was founded in 1849 by a company of six men, who gave it the name suggested by the discovery of gold in California state in that year, is noted for its beauty, its cleanness, and the excellence of its educational facilities. Many municipal improvements have been made in recent years, such as street paving, electric lighting, sewerage, etc., and some handsome edifices have been erected, including a fine new station, two of the bank buildings and two of the largest business blocks in the valley, and a number of handsome churches. California attracts families seeking good educational advantages, together with the conveniences, culture, and comfort of a residence town. The private residences recently built are in keeping with the imposing new business houses, and the town is rapidly becoming one of beautiful homes. No saloons have ever been opened in the town or within several miles of it.

In 1865 the Academy was chartered by the State as the "Southwestern Normal College." August 26, 1868, the corner stone of the present main building was laid. The principal address on this occasion was made by General John W. Geary, then Governor of Pennsylvania. On May 26, 1874, the "Southwestern State Normal College," became by State authority the Southwestern State Normal School for the Tenth District, composed of the counties of Washington, Fayette, Greene and Somerset, and the first class of two members was graduated in the following year.

The school now occupies a group of seven buildings. The Main building was first used in 1870; the North Hall in 1874; the South Hall in 1876; Science Hall in 1892; the Gymnasium in 1894; and the Laundry and Power buildings in 1899. The last building to be erected is the Dixon Hall, used as a dining hall and dormitory, and was completed and first used at the beginning of the fall term of 1907. It is 132 feet in length and 80 feet in width and occupies a commanding site just south of South Hall. The first story space is used chiefly for a dining hall, accommodating about 500 persons, and a kitchen with necessary rooms attached. The second and third stories provide dormitory rooms for one hundred lady students and teachers. The basement story is used for class rooms and storage. In all the buildings of the school is to be found every modern improvement, such as electric lights, steam heat, running water, etc.

The campus contains 12 acres and is made most attractive by flowers, grass, shrubbery, shade trees and well constructed grounds for games, such as tennis, basketball, baseball and football.

Under the new code, State Ownership of Normal Schools became possible. The Legislature of 1913 appropriated $100,000 to be devoted to this purpose. $25,000 of this money was apportioned by the State Board for the purchase of the Southwestern State Normal School.

May 20, 1913, the stockholders of the Institution voted to accept the proposition of the State Board for the purchase of the Institution, and the dissolution of the corporation. February 17, 1914, committees representing the Board of Trustees and the State Board of Education signed the agreement, which received the approval of the Governor. On May 7, 1914, the actual transfer took place. A State Board of Trustees, consisting of nine members, who will conduct the business affairs of the Institution in the name of the Commonwealth, has been appointed by the State Board of Education. The State of Pennsylvania will never forsake these Institutions which have been taken under its fostering care. Increased appropriations with a corresponding efficiency will mark a new era in the development of the Institution.

On March 16, 1915, the School celebrated the 50th Anniversary of the granting of the Charter by the State. Notable addresses were delivered upon that occasion by three men very prominent in education in Pennsylvania: Chancellor S. B. McCormick of the University of Pittsburgh; President W. F. Hinitt, of W. & J. College, and Secretary J. George Becht of the State Board of Education. The chapel was decorated with the portraits of many of the Trustees who worked for the Institution during its days of struggle and sacrifice. With the largest enrollment in its history, and under the kindly guidance of the State Board of Education, the future prospects of the Institution were never brighter.

COURSES OF STUDY FOR PENNSYLVANIA STATE NORMAL SCHOOLS

(As finally revised and adopted at a meeting of Normal School Principals, held at Harrisburg, December 30, 1910.)

Note—This course is based on the "unit" plan as proposed by the Carnegie Foundation.

A "unit" represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work.

(This statement is designed to afford a standard of measurement for work done in a secondary school. It takes the four-year high school course as a basis and assumes that the length of the school year is from thirty-six to forty weeks, that a period is from forty to sixty minutes in length, and that the study is pursued for four or five periods a week; but, under ordinary circumstances, a satisfactory year's work in any subject cannot be accomplished in less than one hundred and twenty sixty minute hours or their equivalent. Schools organized on a different basis can nevertheless estimate their work in terms of this unit.)

Students admitted to the First Year shall have a fair knowledge of Arithmetic, Reading, Penmanship, United States History, Geography, Grammar, Physiology, Civics, and the Elements of Algebra to Quadratics. Test by Faculty.

A person who desires to be admitted to the second or third year without having previously attended an accredited high school, must have a certificate of a commissioned Superintendent of Schools, showing that he has pursued the branches of the first year or the first or second years, with his standing in those branches, or must pass a satisfactory examination by the Faculty in said branches, or be conditioned in them. But the studies in which anyone is conditioned under this rule or any of the rules, shall not foot up more than 120 weeks.

6. If a person who has completed the State Board Examinations required for admission to the classes of any year at any State Normal School desires to enter another Normal School, the Principal of the School at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the school which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificates setting forth the passing of any studies at a State Normal School shall be issued.

11. Residence for the last two years shall be required of all students, except in the case of graduates of Four Years' Courses in Colleges approved by the College and University Council, who may be graduated after one year's residence.

COURSES IN INSTRUCTION

The regular course covers four years and prepares directly for more advanced college work.

I. Latin 1. A preparation for Caesar. This class aims to enable students to read Caesar intelligently and with pleasure. It is desired that each student have a good knowledge of English before taking up this work, that he may, in the shortest possible time, master all the regular inflections and all common irregular forms, understand the fundamentals of syntax, and acquire a good working vocabulary. There are daily drills in translating from Latin to English as well as from English to Latin.

II. Latin 2. Text books for 1916-17, Miller and Beeson Second Year Latin, and the composition books based upon it. The year's work covers a thoro grammar review and one lesson a week of elementary prose composition. Emphasis is placed upon the reading at sight, both in the regular class period and in examinations.

III. Cicero. Four Orations against Catiline. The Manilian Law, Archias. Sight reading of Marcellas, or of selections from Ovid's Metamorphoses and the like. Prose composition based on Cicero.

IV. Virgil. Books I-VI are read, but book V is covered extensively rather than intensively. This course involves the mastery of the elements of Prosody, special grammatical constructions, and a grammar review, a study of the literary and historical allusions, and advanced prose composition in connected discourse.

II. PROFESSIONAL COURSES

First Year. School Management. In this course emphasis is placed upon the development of routine in school work, on methods and devices in school and class room organization, on methods of securing and holding attention, on school discipline, on the relation of the arrangement of the school room and grounds to efficient school work, on the disposition of the teacher's time and her relations to the higher school authorities. The ethics of the teaching profession are also studied. Practical work is given in program making and in the arrangements of records and reports.

School Law is studied with the idea of giving the student a knowledge of the general organization of the State school system. Special emphasis is placed upon the law as it relates to the powers and duties of teachers and their relations to the school boards and superintendents.

Second Year. Methods. This course includes a detailed discussion of the factors which affect methods of teaching: first, the nature of the child; second, the preparation, outlook, interests and attitude of the teacher; third, the kind of school as to size, location, grading, supervision, equipment, special teachers, nationality and ideals of the community.

The commonly accepted Pestalozzian principles are taken up and illustrated. Other important topics are: Oral instruction, why, when, how much and how; the assigning of lessons; teaching children to study books; incentives of study; the recitation; reviews and examinations; and some helpful correlations. In addition to the study of the text, students in this course are required to do a considerable amount of collateral reading in books and educational periodicals.

Third Year. Psychology. The terminology of psychology is learned. The different kinds of thoughts and feelings are studied. Enough of physiological psychology is given that the student may know of the relations of the nervous system and other parts of the body to thoughts and feelings. In dynamic psychology the human instincts are studied with reference to their influence upon the actions and thoughts of people; habits, their origin, development, and control are fully considered; the formation, control and importance of mental connections in the teaching and learning processes are studied. Hereditary influences and individual differences are studied in their relation to the abilities of children to learn. Simple experiments are carried out and pupils work frequently upon exercises.

Fourth Year. History of Education. Attention is given to the development of educational thought. The influences of such leaders as Rousseau, Pestalozzi, Herbart, Froebel, and Spencer are studied in detail. The origin of common schools, the organization of state school systems, and the progress of universal free education are thoroly studied. Original investigations of present-day influences in education, the study of N. E. A. reports, of State and National official reports, and of educational magazines and newspapers is continued thruout the course, so that the student may see at first hand the influence of educational ideas and may be taught to use educational literature.

SOCIOLOGY

The course in sociology is largely a study of social conditions in South-western Pennsylvania with reference to their influence upon the work of the school. The peoples, industries, customs, and institutions are studied at first hand. Investigations are conducted. Reading and reports form a part of the work. The idea kept in mind continually is the relation of the school to society and the effects of social and industrial conditions upon the school.

ETHICS

The course in Ethics continues certain features of the course of Sociology since public morality constitutes a part of the work of the class. This forms a basis for practical reading of Civics. Methods of teaching morals in schools are considered. The moral relations of public and private conduct are studied.

III. ENGLISH

First Year. Elementary English. Grammar, sentence analysis, composition, classics.

Second Year. Text Book—Huntingdon's Elements of Composition, special drill on the paragraph. Classics: Scott's Quentin Durward; Scott's Lady of the Lake, or The Lay of the Last Minstrel; Shakespeare's As You Like It; Thoreau's Walden or Succession of Forest Trees; Parkman's

Oregon Trail.

Third Year. Text Books—Long's English Literature; Tappan's American Literature. Supplementary books:—Manly's English Poetry, Page's The Chief American Poets. Classics:—Macbeth; Milton's Minor Poems; Carlyle's Essay on Burns.

Fourth Year. General review of Grammar, with special emphasis upon methods of teaching, and with the organization of material for English in the grades. Oral English. Library work. Collateral Reading.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION AND ORATORY

The course of study offered by the Department of Expression and Oratory furnishes a means of education and culture. When taken together with the regular course of the school, it amounts to a liberal education.

Literature is the universal means of expression; the voice its natural instrument. There is no greater factor for the building of character than the reading of good literature, but the results are infinitely greater from the constant effort to interpret the spirit of that literature.

COURSES OF STUDY

First Year

"Spoken English" or "Little Classics," S. S. Curry. Articulation, breathing, voice placing; Wordsworth, Longfellow; recitations; story telling; debating.

Second Year

"Foundation of Expression" or "Lessons in Vocal Expression" S. S. Curry. Pronouncing, breathing, voice placing, gesture, impersonation; stories from Tennyson, Shakespeare; public recitals.

Third Year

"Mind and Voice," S. S. Curry. Philosophy of gesture; conversation; recitations; stories; Whittier, Browning, Longfellow; public recitals.

Fourth Year

"Browning and the Dramatic Monologue" and "The Province of Expression," S. S. Curry. Succession, Opposition, Parallelism; public recitals of adaptation of classic or of modern fiction for graduate recital.

IV. HISTORY

First Year. Greek and Roman History. Supplementary reading. Literary reference. Map work. Collateral reading. Note book work.

Second Year. English History. College requirements, including a brief history of contemporary European history.

CIVICS

The aim of the work in civics is to fit the student for efficient citizenship. To this end the largest part of our time is put upon the rights, duties and obligations of citizens, including the students themselves, and these mainly as related to their own community, for the study of government should begin at home. In this work we use as a guide such new books as Dunn's, Nida's and Beard's. The frame-work of the State government is studied with especial attention to the State administrative department, whose various activities touch life at so many points now that no person ignorant of them can be an intelligent citizen. Finally, the machinery of our national government as planned a century or more ago is taken up, and is followed by a study of the ways in which it actually does its work today—how it serves the people and is controlled by them. By thus beginning at home in the center of the student's experience and leading outwards, he obtains an ever-widening concept of his duties, until he finally sees himself a responsible citizen of the United States.

UNITED STATES HISTORY

The problems in teaching History are first, what history shall be taught, and second, how shall it be presented.

Under the first head the classes in Methods of Teaching the History of the United States, take up the following points:

(a) For primary grades, the selection and use of stories of primitive people, suitable stories from the lives of great men, simple stories of a few groups of early settlers, and the simplest phases of pioneer life in Western Pennsylvania.

(b) For intermediate grades, plans for teaching four large divisions of history material are considered, i.e. (1) the work of explorers; (2) typical settlements thruout the United States; (3) the great roads along which our people have moved westward, and (4) local history.

(c) For the seventh and eighth grades the requirements of the State Course of Study, with special emphasis on industrial history form the basis of selection.

Under, How to Present History, the following topics are discussed:

When and how to use oral instruction.
How to teach the study of the text book.
How to use collateral reading.
How to make and use maps in history.
The place of biography in teaching history.
The use of literature in history.
The value of pictures, real and imagined.
Handwork—what and how.
The art of questioning.
Reviews and outlines.
Dramatizing history.
The relation between geography and history.

In order to take the above course, it is necessary that a student have a knowledge of American history equal to that contained in a High School text such as Hart's, Muzzey's or McLaughlin's. Such a course is offered here in the first half of the third year; but no student should think of taking it who does not have a good grasp of elementary history, such as is given in books like Montgomery's, Barnes' or Kendall and Thwaites'.

V. SCIENCE

First Year. Physical Geography. This subject is taught largely from the pedagogical standpoint. The Work in the text is supplemented by outdoor observations. Special attention is given to nature-study features and practical science topics of value to the teacher.

Second Year. Botany. Text used, Coulter's "Plant Life and Plant Uses." The work is conducted along modern lines. Plant analysis and plant mounting is taught merely to give a general acquaintance with the methods of this type of botany.

The following are some of the features receiving special attention:

Principles of plant growth.
Plant relation to animals and their organic importance.
Plants of economic value.
Plants as destructive agents.
Bacteria and their economic relations.
Microscopic study of plant structure.

Third Year. Zoology. Text used, Davenport's "Elementary Zoology." Special attention is given to the economic features and to welfare topics that will add to the usefulness of the teacher. One careful dissection is required.

The following topics are emphasized:

Reproduction.
The cycle of life history (including actual observation).

Out-door studies.

The use of the microscope.

Economic values of animal food supply.

Destructive animals.

Animals as related to health and sanitation.

Fourth Year Agriculture. Text used, Cromwell's "Agriculture and Life." Special attention is given to the pedagogical phases of the subject. Much supplementary work is done along practical lines and in the study of government bulletins which are outlined and discussed as class requirements.

The Normal owns and operates a school garden for the benefit of the Model school and teacher training. Each senior has charge of one or more model school pupils in gardening one of the plots. Prizes are awarded for superior gardens. Some features of the work include:

Corn judging.

Tree and grape pruning.

Orchard spraying.

The Babcock milk test.

CHEMISTRY

To the prospective teacher, (health is of the greatest importance; under ordinary circumstances a sound body means a vigorous mind, industrious habits and a cheerful disposition. The study of chemistry, more than any other science, will teach the students to appreciate properly their own bodies, and to guard themselves against quack nostrums and questionable remedies of daily life.

Foods, beverages, drugs and medicines are analyzed, and helpful as well as harmful properties determined. The analysis of water and milk; the determination of the amount of alcohol in patent medicines, "soft drinks" and other beverages; the search for coal-tar products; these are a few of the efforts made to provide for the physical well-being of the students thru a knowledge of chemical laws; while the removal of stains, the dyeing of cloth, the preparation of essences and extracts and the determination of the nutritive value of foods are planned to correlate with the domestic science department.

In a word our aim is to create, if necessary, and to foster a real interest in the great science of Chemistry; to give a broader outlook on life, and to create a belief that every teacher is a real and vital factor in the busy, living world, and to furnish her with information by which she can keep both body and mind in an alert, healthy condition.

6. Practical Work. Drawing, design, color work and clay modeling studied in relation to making and applied weaving, cardboard construction and decoration, nature work expression, memory sketching and other rapid work at blackboard for school-room illustration.

7. Pedagogical Course. Value of drawing, painting and modeling in educative power, importance and place in public school course, relation to other subjects; study of guided and unguided artistic expression of children; study of different theories and methods of teaching.

First Year. Algebra I, is offered to those who have not had this subject before entering the Normal. The course covers the usual topics of Elementary Algebra up to quadratics.

Algebra II, is required in the First Year for those who have had before entrance the equivalent of Algebra I. This course consists of a review of the topics of the preceding course followed by a more thoro study of the remaining topics thru simultaneous quadratics and the theory of exponents.

Second Year. Algebra II is required of those who take Algebra I during their first year or who have not had the Plane Geometry. The usual theorems found in any stand-equivalent of Algebra II before entrance.

ard text are studied, together with a few originals and as many problems as time will permit.

Third Year. The course in Solid Geometry is elective, and may be taken in either the third or fourth year of the Course. It includes the usual theorems of any good text, supplemented by many practical problems in mensuration of solids, with particular emphasis upon the development of the formulas used.

Trigonometry follows the preceding course and may be elected by any one who has had solid geometry either here or elsewhere. Emphasis is placed in this subject upon the solution of right and oblique triangles, and of problems from various sources which involve the solution of triangles.

Fourth Year. In the senior year, one-half year is devoted to a practical review of Arithmetic with special emphasis upon the Methods of Teaching the subject. A special text, Smith's "Methods of Teaching Arithmetic" has been used to good advantage. The course of study in the grades and the subject matter for problems in industrial and commercial life have been discussed. The aim of the course is to strengthen the weak places in the student's preliminary education and to give a broad outlook upon the demands of the subject in the common schools.

IX COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

This department furnishes unusual opportunities to anyone who desires to prepare himself either for commercial teaching or for business. It offers not only everything that commercial schools generally do, but also a great many things that other schools do not. As a part of the Normal School, the students have access to the library; they may take part in athletics and the social life of the school; they are eligible to membership in the literary societies, which enables them to grow in a direction too often neglected in commercial schools.

The department is well equipped with typewriters, files, letter copying apparatus, etc. The typewriters are of the latest models and are of four makes, namely, Remington, Underwood, L. C. Smith, and Oliver, the object being to prevent students from becoming so accustomed to one make that they cannot use another. In fact, thruout the course, the work is presented in such a way that later the student can

Fourth Year. History of Education. Attention is given to the development of educational thought. The influences of such leaders as Rousseau, Pestalozzi, Herbart, Froebel, and Spencer are studied in detail. The origin of common schools, the organization of state school systems, and the progress of universal free education are thoroly studied. Original investigations of present-day influences in education, the study of N. E. The course in sociology is largely a study of social conditions in South-western Pennsylvania with reference to their influence upon the work of the school. The peoples, industries, customs, and institutions are studied at first hand. Investigations are conducted. Reading and reports form a part of the work. The idea kept in mind continually is the relation of the school to society and the effects of social and industrial conditions upon the school.

ETHICS

The course in Ethics continues certain features of the course of Sociology since public morality constitutes a part of the work of the class. This forms a basis for practical reading of Civics. Methods of teaching morals in schools are considered. The moral relations of public and private conduct are studied.

Algebra I during their first year or who have not had the Plane Geometry. The usual theorems found in any stand-equivalent of Algebra II before entrance.

ard text are studied, together with a few originals and as many problems as time will permit.

Third Year. The course in Solid Geometry is elective, and may be taken in either the third or fourth year of the Course. It includes the usual theorems of any good text, supplemented by many practical problems in mensuration of solids, with particular emphasis upon the development of the formulas used.

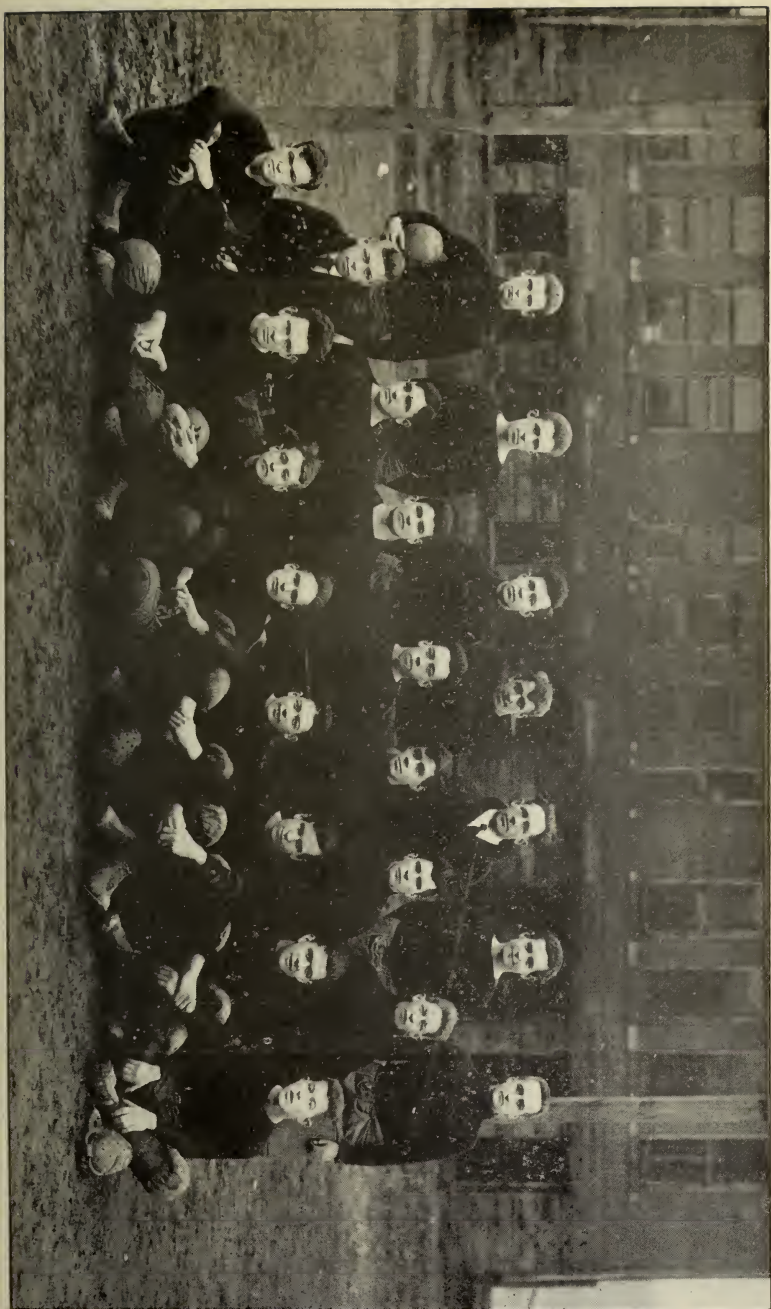

Trigonometry follows the preceding course and may be elected by any one who has had solid geometry either here or elsewhere. Emphasis is placed in this subject upon the solution of right and oblique triangles, and of problems from various sources which involve the solution of triangles.

Fourth Year. In the senior year, one-half year is devoted to a practical review of Arithmetic with special emphasis upon the Methods of Teaching the subject. A special text, Smith's "Methods of Teaching Arithmetic" has been used to good advantage. The course of study in the grades and the subject matter for problems in industrial and commercial life have been discussed. The aim of the course is to strengthen the weak places in the student's preliminary education and to give a broad outlook upon the demands of the subject in the common schools.

IX COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

This department furnishes unusual opportunities to any one who desires to prepare himself either for commercial teaching or for business. It offers not only everything that commercial schools generally do, but also a great many things that other schools do not. As a part of the Normal School, the students have access to the library; they may take part in athletics and the social life of the school; they are eligible to membership in the literary societies, which enables them to grow in a direction too often neglected in commercial schools.

The department is well equipped with typewriters, files, letter copying apparatus, etc. The typewriters are of the latest models and are of four makes, namely, Remington, Underwood, L. C. Smith, and Oliver, the object being to prevent students from becoming so accustomed to one make that they cannot use another. In fact, thruout the course, the work is presented in such a way that later the student can adapt himself to the work of any office, no matter what the make of machine or style of books may happen to be.

The work in typewriting is touch writing entirely. It includes copy work, manifolding, tabulation, billing, stencil cutting, addressing envelopes, transcribing from shorthand notes, and taking dictation directly on the machine. In all the work on the typewriter, accuracy is the first consideration, speed the second. The shorthand used is the Ben Pitman. Besides mastering the principles of this system, the student is expected to acquire sufficient speed to enable him to take ordinary dictation accurately and rapidly, and to be able to transcribe it on the typewriter. In bookkeeping only the most modern methods are employed, beginning with the simple principles and then taking up a study of the special systems found in various lines of business, such as banking and manufacturing. The work in Commercial Law, is designed not to make every student a lawyer, nor to make him delight in law-suits, but to teach him his rights, so that he may be able to avoid trouble without allowing others to impose upon him.

Two Years Course

First Year. Bookkeeping, Theory and Practice, English, Grammar, Spelling, Penmanship, Stenography, Arithmetic, Typewriting.

Second Year. Practical Bookkeeping, Rhetoric, Stenography, Typewriting, Commercial Law, Commercial Geography.

X VOCAL MUSIC

Students who expect to complete the course in Voice must arrange their work for the following studies: The work, however, will be flexible to a certain extent to suit the individual needs of the pupils.

Voice development and song	120 hours, one per week
Piano	120 hours, one per week
Ear training, sight reading and music history	80 hours, one per week
Harmony	40 hours, one per week
English	160 hours, four per week
French or German	160 hours, four per week
Model School Teaching	60 hours, four per week

The Vocal Music Department is second to none in the State. The simplicity of voice development is constantly imparted to the pupil, that each one may learn to work for himself. Special care is given to breathing and freedom of the organs used in singing.

Very choice song material is used, which is endorsed by the best singers and teachers. Pupils are urged to sing some of the Italian, French, and German songs in their original language. Concert, oratorio, and Opera Songs are given to those most capable.

Vocal exercises are given only to develop agility and fluency, and the usual drudgery in this line is avoided. The same time used for a vocal exercise can be better spent upon a suitable song which will be of some use in the future. The equipment of practice rooms, the variety of subjects taught, the assistance of a song coach, and the many opportunities for public appearances, both in school and neighboring towns, make this a school of music well worth considering.

Song recitals are frequently given and seniors must give a special recital before receiving a diploma.

Public School Music Course

A course is offered for those who wish to qualify to teach music in the public schools. There is a demand for these graduates.

Voice development	80 hours, one per week
Piano	80 hours, one per week
Harmony	60 hours, one per week
Ear training, sight reading, history of music	80 hours, one per week
Model School teaching and observa- tion	120 hours, four per week
School management	160 hours, four per week
Chorus Directing.

The school and town choruses combined have presented such works as "The Rose Maiden," "Joan of Arc," "Messiah," "The Creation," and "Pinafore."

XI PIANO DEPARTMENT

Beginners and those not far advanced are especially welcome, as they possess few or none of the bad habits of performance which are so easily formed by wrong teaching or careless practice, and which prove in many cases almost insurmountable obstacles to high cultivation; they, therefore, receive more rapidly the correct fundamental principles, and, can, as a rule, make steady and rapid progress uninterrupted by the tedious process of unlearning bad habits.

Candidates for graduation will be required to satisfy a Board of Examiners in the following tests:

To play (from memory) all of the following scales and arpeggios.

(a) Major and harmonic minor scales, the hands commencing a third, sixth, eighth, or tenth apart; and chromatic scales commencing a major or minor third, major or minor sixth, or minor tenth apart; all in similar and contrary motion, Melodic minor scales will be required in similar motion only, an eighth apart.

(b) Major and chromatic scales in double thirds in similar motion only.

(c) Major, harmonic and melodic minor, and chromatic scales in double eights in similar motion, the hands commencing an eighth apart. Scales in double eighths in contrary motion in Major keys only, both hands commencing on the key note.

(d) Arpeggios of major and minor common chords and their inversions, and dominant seventh of their inversions, in similar and contrary motion, the two hands to play the same position of the chord.

All the scales and arpeggios, as above stated, to be played with legato and staccato touch—four actaves in similar motion and two octaves in contrary motion, except scales in double eighths, which are to be played in three octaves in similar motion and two octaves in contrary motion. The staccatto touch to comprise both fingers and hand staccato (except scales in double thirds and double octaves, which will be required with hand staccato only.) The scales are to begin on the highest or lowest note, at the discretion of the teacher.

Candidates for graduation must be prepared to play before the Examiners the following compositions: One piece from list A, one piece from list B, and four pieces from list C. The compositions in lists A and C must be played from memory. Equivalent for list C will be accepted, at the discretion of the Director.

Harmony

The work in harmony is conducted with this object constantly in view: to develop in the student the capacity to think music, that is, to understand and recognize melody, harmony and rhythm as conscious and definite elements of his thought. To attain this object, melody is taken as the starting point, and the student is taught in progressive order to create his own melodies, to develop thru the medium of melody, a definite feeling for the characteristic quality of each harmony, and to employ correctly all the harmonies (in the various chord formation) in the harmonization of melodies, both original and given. The conscious musical fact is emphasized in each step more than the written symbol. Hence, instead of learning first the formal and dry rules for writing and then writing merely by rule, the student is, from the beginning, made acquainted with music as a real and thinkable something, the necessity for certain rules thus becoming logically apparent.

This process of making music an audible fact in the student's thought, rather than a merely visual fact on paper—of hearing music before writing it—is carried on thru every step in harmony, counterpoint and composition. Candidates for graduation must have had not less than one year of harmony.

History of Music

This course is required of all candidates for the diploma from the Department of Music. It consists of thirty lectures on the general development of music. Practical illustrations of the lectures are given in the class-room by the Victrola or actual performance by members of the faculty. Candidates, in addition to this, must present a copy in ink of one piece by each of the great masters. These copies must include all signs of legato, staccato, slurs, pedal marks, and words indicating tempo or delivery. The student must be able to explain to the Board of Examiners all such marks found in these compositions.

Appreciation of Music

No previous knowledge of music is required for admission to this course. It is designed to give a general idea of music from its historical and aesthetic side. It treats of the history of the art of music, and of music as an element of liberal culture, the purpose being to furnish the basis for an intelligent appreciation of musical composition. It is fully illustrated thruout with music. The course is taught either by class or private lessons.

Science of Music

This course includes the study of Harmony, Counterpoint, Fugue, History of Music, Musical Form, Orchestration and Composition. Candidates for graduation must have had at least two years of piano.

Normal Course for Piano Teachers

This course takes up the various problems of the teaching of Piano. Candidates for the Teacher's certificate are expected to complete the regular course in piano playing, to finish the courses in Harmony and the History of Music, and to give twenty lessons to children of the Model School under the supervision of the Director.

Violin and Brass Band

A pleasant feature of the school life that has recently been incorporated is the instruction on small instruments including violin, cornet and other band instruments. The boys of the school have shown great interest in this work and it is hoped that in the coming year string quartets may be organized as a foundation for a school orchestra.

Students are encouraged to bring their instruments with them in order to take part in this pleasant activity. The brass band has made its appearance at socials, athletic events and at May Day.

XII TRAINING DEPARTMENT

The center of activity for the seniors in the Normal School is the training department. This is a work-shop where theory is translated into practice. This is the place where all other work functions. Here each apprentice teacher has an opportunity to gain first-hand knowledge of child life. With 140 enrolled during the year, a splendid opportunity has existed for students to come in contact with individual children. The work of the school is more effective, and the grades contain a greater variety than has heretofore been offered. The attendance within the school has been admirable, and most excellent work has resulted. All the opportunities of the Training School have been offered free to the children of the community. The response to this generous offer has been most hearty.

The work of observation in the third-year class has been carried on in four groups. Each group observes a lesson taught by one of the regular teachers, after which a report of the lesson is carefully prepared, and given to the critic teacher.

A week later the same group returns to that teacher for a period of consultation and discussion concerning these reports. When these students become seniors they will have a thorough understanding of what is expected in the Training School, and how the regular teachers obtain the results which they desire. The curriculum followed in the Model School is closely patterned after the State Course of Study published by the Department of Public Instruction. During the last year the children took part in a Hallowe'en Entertainment, in a Patron's Day reception, and May Day exercises, all of which were prepared with the help of the seniors.

Teachers and directors from this district are invited to inspect the various departments of this school. Its aim is to render the greatest amount of service possible, not only to the students in the school, but to teachers in the district.

A new feature in the Training School has been the lessons taught before the third year class by heads of departments in the Normal School. These lessons have formed a connecting link between the Methods work of the Normal School and the practical Training of the Model School. No school exercise has been more valuable to these prospective teachers than the Wednesday afternoon Observation and Consultation periods. When the Superintendents and Principals Conference occurred in February, the Training School was the center of their interest.

Kindergarten

The three years work in the Kindergarten has further demonstrated the value of such work in the Normal School. The kind of training that it offers to the students desiring that work is of a high order. An average of 30 children has been enrolled in the Kindergarten. A number of girls who are anxious to make this sort of work a life work, have an opportunity to take their training in this department. Besides being a feeder for our Training School, the Kindergarten will turn out a very creditable product for Kindergarten work in public schools of the State. Children are admitted between the ages of 4 and 6 on condition that they continue to attend the Training School when they are old enough.

The work consists of plays, games, songs and stories, dramatization and work including paper cutting and folding, clay modeling, and many other forms. Visitors are always much interested in this line of work. Prospective students who desire training work in this branch of the Model School should correspond with the Principal relative to the matter.

XIII. DOMESTIC SCIENCE

The department of Domestic Science was opened on the second floor of Science Hall in the fall of 1913. Three rooms are devoted to this work. The sewing room contains two sewing machines, a cutting table, ironing board and tables for individual work for 24 girls. The kitchen consists of 24 fully equipped outfits, with one regular range. In the dining-room meals are actually served, and the students come in contact with this phase of the work. In no department of the school has the work been more practical, and the students have been enthusiastic in their praise of this sort of instruction. The department is well located and well equipped. Children in the Training School from the third grade up have had work in both cooking and sewing.

A feature of the year's work has been the providing of cookies, doughnuts, cocoa, etc., for some social occasions in the Training School like Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

In order to facilitate the work in the senior year, a text book has been introduced which gives many valuable suggestions to the girls and avoids a large amount of dictation that would otherwise be necessary. The seniors of the class of 1916 have now completed all that is offered in the four-year Normal Course and from this time on all students who graduate will have all of the work. It is hoped that an additional feature may be conducted in the near future which will consist of the proper care of a bedroom including the making of beds.

An annual event of this department which is looked forward to with great interest by the members of the senior class is a dinner to the Board of Trustees at their June Meeting, also when the State Board of Examiners comes the girls keep open house in order to show these men what they have accomplished during the year.

In order to meet the expense of material, both cooking and sewing, students are charged a fee of $1.00 per term.

XIV. MANUAL TRAINING

The large basement room under the dining room in Dixon Hall has been equipped for the use of the students in Manual

— BASKET BALL TEAM 1916

DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLASS

Training. A splendid course in Mechanical Drawing and woodwork is given. The equipment of individual benches, fully supplied with tools, and three power machines, including band-saws, lathe and combination grindstone. The equipment in this department cost about $1,000.00. Children in the Training School have been making good use of the shop since it was opened. The boys thoroly enjoy this new method of expression.

During the past year many useful articles have been made by the boys in the Training School for use in the school and in the home. The largest project undertaken has been making of three desks for the critic teachers in the Training School. The material was furnished by the school, and the boys of the first-year have done the work. The finished product can be seen in the Training School today.

Normal students taking the course in Manual Training will be charged a fee of $0.50 per term, to cover the cost of the material. Where students desire to make any large piece in wood, the actual cost of the material involved must be met in addition to this fee, if the piece is to become personal property.

XV. PENMANSHIP

Penmanship is the most difficult and skillful art that the public in general is expected to acquire. It is not an inherited but an acquired art; an art worth attaining by every man and woman, and certainly by teachers—for they have no moral right to place poor forms before the pupils of an impressionable age.

We aim to overcome the cramped finger movement so prevalent among those who have not had special instruction in this branch, by practical means, and produce free graceful and legible forms, which are interesting to learn, easy to write and restful to the reader.

Our instruction is based upon the Zaner Method of arm movement. The forms are a medium between the Spencerian of the Nineteenth Century and the Vertical of the Nineties.

Penmanship is an art adapted to the adult and not the immature child. And inasmuch as the child is required to write in the grades, it behooves us to teach him rationally, so that the habits acquired at that time may not be harmful to his future needs and at the same time injurious to his present health.

Children in the first grade are taught to write on the blackboard the first three or four months, where the writing muscles are developed. Seat work is then taken up and used in conjunction with the blackboard. The paper used is one-half inch ruling. The size of the minimum letters are one space high, while the capitals are two spaces. Graduation in sizes is gradual from the first to the fifth grade, where the minimum size is taught. Position and writing habits are strictly enforced from the first to the fifth grade, while form is more rigidly emphasized from the sixth to the eighth grade. The blackboard work of the student teachers is carefully criticised.

Everyone who is endowed with good health and a generous supply of determination can learn to write well.

SUMMER SCHOOL

June 26th, 1916 the first summer school for many years was opened in the Normal School. Many teachers and alumni who are engaged, for the greater part of the school year, in teaching can no longer benefit by attending during the few weeks of the spring term remaining after 8 or 9 months schools are closed. To these teachers the summer school proposition makes a special appeal. It is possible to earn credits toward the new four year diploma and to take up new work such as Manual Training, Domestic Science, Drawing, Agriculture, Rural Sociology and Ethics and other subjects that were not pursued when the students were in school.

A strong effort will be made in the coming Legislature to secure an appropriation for the payment of tuition of students in the summer school. If this can be accomplished the Normal Schools will become a great center of influence during the summer months. No reason can be given why these State owned Institutions should lie idle for 10 weeks every summer. Their extensive libraries, laboratories and equipment can be put to good use in this manner.

The State Department of Vocational Education has planned to send a teacher here to give instruction in Continuation School Work. Students who pursue this course, which will take all of their time, must hold a valid certificate and must have taught at least one year. They will be eligible to take a State Examination for a special certificate for teaching in Continuation Schools. Even tho these students should not teach in Continuation School Work, the practical instruction given in this course will prove to be very stimulating in the regular work of any school. Tuition in this course will be absolutely free. This is a rare opportunity for this industrial section of the State, and there should be no trouble in securing the twenty-five students necessary in order that the work be given.

The boarding department of the institution will be open at the usual rate of $4.50 per week. Tuition in the summer school has been fixed at $12.00 for two studies, $15.00 for three and $18.00 for four.

It is believed that this movement will grow until the summer school will have as large an attendance as any other term in the school year. Several members of the faculty of the regular school year will constitute the faculty in the summer term.

Professor W. F. H. Wentzel will act as Dean of the Summer School this year.

ADMISSION

General Conditions

Applicants for admission should present their credentials from other institutions which they have attended. Blanks may be obtained from the Principal's office. All work that is satisfactorily completed in approved high schools is credited on the Normal Course. Subjects that have been passed with high grades in teacher's examinations given by County Superintendents will also be credited when the certificate is presented.

Purpose

The function of this Normal School is to prepare and qualify teachers for service in the public schools of Pennsylvania. Two distinctive lines of work are carried on—the academic and the professional. The academic courses are intended to broaden the horizon of the individual, and arouse his scholastic enthusiasm and secure the highest grade of mental training and alertness. The professional attitude, however, predominates in every department of the school, even the special courses in music, both vocal and instrumental, in elocution and in the commercial subjects, look toward the teaching profession. The more recent subjects including Agriculture, Domestic Science, Manual Training, Mechanical Drawing, and the work in the Kindergarten all are conducted with reference to their influence upon the prospective teacher, and to increase his efficiency in the community which he may serve.

Fitness for the Work.

Good health is a prime prerequisite to entrance upon a Normal School course of study. While the work is not too exhaustive for a person in good health, yet those who are lacking in physical vigor will find it to their profit to delay entrance until they may have fully recovered from all physical weakness.

The qualification of mental aptitude is as fully an essential characteristic as mere physical health. It is always to be recognized that the finest scholar does not necessarily make the most successful teacher, but, on the other hand, the Normal School does not pretend to form capable teachers of those who are lacking either in learning or the skill to instruct and manage the ordinary pupil of the elementary school.

Further, the board of instruction does not assume to itself infallibility of judgment as to the fitness in individual cases. It merely intends to look for the essential characters of alertness, integrity, love of work, enthusiasm, inspiration, energy that never wearies, and a proper conception on the part of the teacher of the relation of the school to the individual and the community.

DISCIPLINE

The aim of the administration is to lead students to be self-governing. The relation which a Normal School sustains to the State, and the guarantee of self-control which it must vouch for in regard to its students, compel a much more rigid and careful daily oversight of the habits of students than would be either necessary or advisable in institutions of different character.

This school can in no measure take over the function of a reform school. Its one disciplinary function is to offer the opportunity for young men and women of well defined purpose and age to cultivate under the most favorable circumstances, habits of good order, self-respect, and leadership. Individuals who cannot adapt themselves to such an atmosphere will find it necessary to seek other schools for their education. Fitness for the profession of teaching is the one end to be sought, and any person who cannot comprehend such an ideal is a misfit.

HONOR SYSTEM RULES

I. The Honor System herein inaugurated by the students of the Southwestern State Normal School, California, Pa., requires absolute honesty in all oral and written class work, in all examinations, and in such other work as the instructors shall assign to be done without assistance. This honesty applies as fully to the giving as to the receiving of illegitimate help.

II. It is the duty of anyone believing that a breach of the Honor System has been committed to report the offender to the President of the Student Organization Board; after which the Board shall investigate the matter as quietly and speedily as possible.

III. After a thorough investigation has been made, the Student Board shall summon the accused before them and demand an explanation of his or her conduct. The Board may, at its discretion, warn the accused as to future consequences should he or she again be found guilty of any act of dishonesty.

IV. The accused shall have the privilege of demanding a hearing before the Student Board at any time.

V. If the offense is repeated, or any other breach of the Honor System is committed by the same individual and is reported to the Student Board, and if, after hearing the explanation, seven out of nine who compose the Board are convinced of the guilt of the accused, and shall so cast their votes in secret ballot, this shall mean that the decision of the Board is for asking the student to withdraw from the school. The Student Board shall then report their decision to the Principal of the school for final action.

VI. In the trial before the Student Board, if necessary both the accuser and the accused shall appear. Only such questions shall be asked as tend to bring out the facts. If the accused refuse to appear before the Board, without valid excuse to the President, the Board shall meet and render its decision without a trial.

VII. The rules of the Honor System shall be enforced by the Student Board.

The Student Organization Board shall be composed of nine members to be elected in general assembly from the various classes as follows: Five seniors for one year, two third year for two years, one second year for one year, one first year for one year.

VIII. The officers of this Board shall be a President and Secretary, chosen by the Board from among their own number.

The President shall preside at all meetings and see that the work is carried on in the proper way. The Secretary shall keep full records of all proceedings of the Board.

IX. All written work shall be certified according to the wording of the following form, which shall be written on the completion of such assignments, together with the proper signature: I hereby certify that I have neither given nor received assistance of any kind in the work herein offered.

Signature.

No paper shall receive consideration at the hands of the teacher unless it is properly certified and all such papers shall be passed to the Student Board for action.

X. Any student registered in any department of this school shall be subject to these regulations.

Every student in the school shall be required to sign a statement that he or she has become familiar with the foregoing Honor System and pledge himself or herself to maintain it.

Student Organization

During the last seven years the student body has taken over the control of examinations. A representative board of nine members is selected by popular ballot. The Board passes on all matters arising in connection with the Honor System.

Excuses

No excuses for absence will be granted in cases where regular work is interfered with, unless accompanied by a written request from parents or guardians.

PHYSICAL CULTURE AND ATHLETICS

The Normal Gymnasium is a large, well lighted and ventilated building, fully equipped with apparatus, such as vaulting horse, parallel bars, horizontal bar, climbing ladders, traveling and flying rings, hand ball, board window screened for basket ball, indoor baseball, etc., a large number of tumbling mats, chest weight machines of all kinds, spring boards, vaulting standards and poles, punching bag, etc.

An annual event of great interest is a gymnasium exhibition in which the students of the Normal Department give a program of marching, dancing, club swinging, apparatus work, boxing, plays and games. In the year 1915-16 the students organized an Athletic Association electing students among themselves for the various teams, and awarding sweaters to the students who fulfilled necessary conditions in making the athletic teams. In order to represent the Institution on an Athletic team, a candidate must carry at least 20 hours work per week and for the week prior to the game must have made an average of C in $\frac{3}{4}$ of his subjects.

A strong Athletic Organization in the school is the Tennis Association, whose representatives won the Championship on the Normal courts from Indiana and Clarion at the Meeting in 1915. The Normal now possesses five courts and it is difficult to accommodate all the students who are eager to play. It is one of the best games for physical development. The interest in the Tournament was very great.

The athletic field is one of the finest grounds in this part of the State for baseball, football and track athletics.

The aim of the athletic work is to give every student the chance of not only keeping in good physical health, but of building up the body by systematic training, and of overcoming the defects brought about by careless habits of position and movement; also in the vigorous games of baseball, football, etc., to develop courage, determination, self-control, aggressiveness, self-reliance, obedience, quickness of decision, united action as well as agility, strength and endurance, qualities all of which are so essential to a team member and to a large extent thruout life.

Physical Training for Women

In the physical training for the young women of the school, health and grace are considered the goal, in reaching which a multitude of other desirable qualities are encouraged. The course is about equally divided between educational and recreative work. In good weather out-door games occupy the time, while during the winter months Swedish gymnastic work in hand apparatus—for instance, clubs, and wands—and games, form each day's program.

This work forms a part of the regular course, and a physician's certificate is required from any student unable to enroll in gymnastic class. New pupils are requested to wait until arriving at the school before providing themselves with suits, as uniform suits are required and they are supplied at reasonable prices at the school.

INFIRMARY

In the fall of 1914 a new infirmary was planned and equipped on the second floor of one of the dwellings owned by the school, on the rear of the campus. Three good bedrooms, a bathroom and kitchen were fully equipped. From these rooms there are two separate stairways, so that it would be possible to have five or six patients there at one time in care of the nurse, and the rooms being absolutely separate, it would be possible for both boys and girls to be treated at any time, and in case of a contagious disease breaking out, the patient is removed at once to the infirmary.

TRAVELING STUDENTS

So many students have been traveling on the trains that the Board of Trustees, at the suggestion of the Principal, decided to provide better accommodations for this group. To this end a lunch room in the basement of the North Hall has been opened, where students may obtain, at the noon hour, at a very small cost, some well-prepared food. Soups, beans, sandwiches, pie, coffee, cocoa, are among the things served. Lunch tickets amounting to $1.00 are on sale in the Registrar's Office. The amount purchased is punched out of this ticket at the lunch counter. Students wait on themselves to some extent, and return the empty dishes to the counter. No move in recent years has been more popular nor more needed. The school furnishes table linen, and chairs for the students are placed in the dining room, a good strong spigot supplying spring water for drinking purposes, and in the outer room is provided wash bowls, hot and cold water, liquid soap equipment, plate glass mirror, paper towels, shoe brushes for the convenience of these day students. There are days in the week when more than 120 persons patronize these new facilities. Students need not purchase anything, but most of them do. Thus far no higher charge for any article than 5c has been made.

In this same basement three ironing boards have been arranged for the use of boarding students, with a three burner hot plate and a set of irons. Friday evening from three to five, and Saturday morning from eight to ten, the girls may use these facilities for pressing their clothes. At one o'clock Saturday afternoon the young men may use the same facilities. All of this activity is under careful supervision.

LIBRARY COURSE

1. The purpose of the Library course is to create a "Library spirit" and to develop a love of literature, as well as to teach the use of the library. The first three years of the course embrace the following work:

(a) Use of the catalogue, Reader's Guide, and other indexes, including bibliography.

(b) Reference books and how to use them as tools in the preparation of lessons.

(c) Diacritical marking.

(d) Our periodical literature.

(e) How to review and outline biography, drama, essays, and fiction.

(f) How to select subject matter for debates.

(g) Study of classified list of authors and their works.

2. The Senior, or fourth year, is given over to such advanced work as will aid the students in their own school library work, as outlined below.

This work is designed to prepare teachers, especially for grade and rural schools, for the selection, use and care of a school library.

(a) Preparation and selection of stories as given in the course of study for the elementary schools of Pennsylvania.

(b) Selecting, reading, and purchasing of children's books.

(c) Mending of books, purchase and mounting of pictures.

(d) Work of State Library Commission.

(e) Cataloging of a small library.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Literary Work has been fostered and aided by the strong Literary Societies called the Clonian and Philomathean. Considerable rivalry exists between these two societies, and they have vied with each other in preparing splendid programs thruout the past year. They promote sociability as well as literary effort. Much of the success of California Normal graduates is due to the training in these societies. The Annual Contest between these two societies is by far the most interesting event of the year. Each society has prepared a special number of the Normal Review during the current year. Each has supervised a social given to the rest of the school. All of these activities have been conducted in splendid fashion and the society spirit forecasts excellent work in the future.

On account of the size of the school it was found necessary to organize two additional Literary Societies, meeting on Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of day students and for those students who are members of the First and Second Year classes. These new organizations have done much to develop leadership among the younger students. An Annual Contest has been arranged to be conducted on the evening of May Day between Philo, Jr. and Clio, Jr., Societies. Society Work is required for graduation.

INTER-NORMAL DEBATE

For three years the students have taken part in an Inter-Normal Debate with Clarion. Important questions have been discussed and many students have been trained in the art of argumentation by these events. The Normal representatives have acquitted themselves with great credit in every Contest and the enthusiasm for this kind of work is steadily increasing. The question discussed in the last Debate was, Resolved, "That the United States should adopt the policy of military preparedness."

RELIGIOUS LIFE AT THE NORMAL

Strangers who come to this Institution for the first time are impressed by the unusual religious atmosphere which they find. The active Christian work of the students and faculty is an inspiration to every new student. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. send delegates each year to Summer Conferences. These young people become leaders in promoting a healthy moral atmosphere. The authorities of the school avoid everything of a sectarian nature, but endeavor in every proper way to interest students in Christian work. Sunday Evening Vesper Services have been notable in interest and power. Devotional exercises are conducted each morning in the chapel.

SOCIAL LIFE

Several receptions are held during the school year in order that students may learn the usages of good society. After Literary Society on Friday evenings a brief social is held in the Main Hall. On Tuesday evening the young women receive callers in North Parlor from 6 to 7. Course dinners are given occasionally with toast-master and after-dinner speeches. These accustom our young people to such occasions and are a source of special enjoyment. The Hallowe'en Masquerade, Annual Football Banquet, Celebration of Lincoln's Birthday and May Day are a few of the distinctive features of the school year. The rotation of students, in the various terms, at different tables in the dining-room makes possible a form of social life which is most cheerful and homelike. French and German tables have been maintained, where students in these subjects can converse in the language selected. Teachers and students associate freely and their relations are most homelike and natural.

LECTURES AND ENTERTAINMENTS

The attractive course of lectures maintained is one of the necessary features of our school life. Among those who have appeared during the past year are the following:

Ng Poon Chew	Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer
Geo. H. Bradford	Montraville Wood
Frederick Poole	The Cavaliers
Dr. Louis Rapeer	Gamble Concert Co.
E. E. Bach	Dr. Thomas C. Blaisdell
Rev. H. H. Ryland	Mrs. Mary G. Noss
Rev. H. C. Currie	Col. G. O. Shields
Rev. A. W. Renton	Rev. Robert Honn
Dr. Arthur Bestor

HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT

The buildings are heated by steam and lighted by electricity. Reception rooms and parlors are conveniently located, thus foregoing the necessity of visitors in the dormitories. Modern fire escapes, electric alarm bells, fire hose connected with pumps and reservoir, and night watchman give special protection against fire.

Many improvements have been made in the last year in the students' rooms. They are heated, lighted, carpeted, many of them newly papered, provided with dressing case, table, bed, washstand and wardrobe. The nurse inspects students' rooms and grades them upon their condition, and any injury or damage will be charged to the occupants.

North Parlor was entirely refurnished last summer. The Main Hall was much improved by the laying of a tile floor in the school colors. The dining-room, one of the finest in the country is spacious, well ventilated, lighted by electricity and unusually pleasant. Excellent table board has been furnished.

Two students usually occupy each room, tho a few single rooms have been provided. During the year a splendid infirmary has been equipped. It consists of three complete and separate bedrooms, with a kitchen and bathroom. These rooms are so arranged that both male and female patients could be taken care of at the same time. These rooms are approached by stairways from the outside, and are so isolated from the rest of the school buildings that there is no danger of it being a source of contagion. The work of the nurse tends to prevent illness and the chances of carrying it. When students are ill, a slight charge is made for trays sent to the rooms. The health of the school has been remarkable during the last year.
